(has a large private studio for wedding parties, can travel as well as host hair stylists)

SIDE NOTE: A great make-up job on your wedding day starts with a proper skin care regimen. I highly recommend Cheryl for learning how to care for your individual skin types for pre-wedding prep. Good skin takes weeks of proper care and she can show you what you can do to have the best face for your wedding day make-up. She offers my brides and their bridesmaids a free consultation where you can test out products and learn how they work. She can also color match foundations and show you how to apply your makeup for a photo-ready look that will look flawless and photograph well under the bright lights. I suggest meeting up with Cheryl 3-6 months before your wedding date, and it would make for a great Girl's Night Out pampering session with your ladies!
